Message

INSPIRE HER AFRIKA

CHIDINMA OLI

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Over the course of this mentorship program, we have witnessed remarkable growth, forged meaningful connections, and witnessed the transformative power of mentorship in action.

I am thrilled to reflect on the incredible experiences we have shared during this mentorship journey. It is with immense gratitude that I extend my heartfelt appreciation to each mentor, mentee, and supporter who contributed to the program's success.

To our mentors, your dedication and commitment have been the guiding light for our mentees, inspiring them to reach new heights and realize their potential.

To our mentees, congratulations on completing this chapter of your journey. Your resilience, curiosity, and eagerness to learn have been truly inspiring. Remember that this isn't the end but a new beginning filled with opportunities to apply the knowledge and insights gained during the mentorship.

As we close this chapter for 2023, let's celebrate the achievements, lessons learned, and the bonds formed. The connections made during this program extend beyond its duration, creating a lasting network of support and inspiration.

I encourage each of you to carry the spirit of Inspire Her Afrika forward, whether as mentors continuing to guide others or as mentees applying newfound knowledge and experiences. Your commitment to empowering women across Africa is truly changing lives and shaping the future. Our community is stronger because of each of you.

Message

INSPIRE HER AFRIKA

OJONUGWA ABUBAKAR

PROGRAM MANAGER

This journey would not have been possible without the support and guidance of our mentors, accomplished women who have generously shared their wisdom, insights, and encouragement with our mentees.

As Shirley Liu, Global Vice President of L'Oréal, said in her 2019 TED Talk:

"If you want something, dream, dare, do. If you want something extraordinary, dream, dare, do, with great mentors. If you want to learn a powerful lesson about yourself, become a mentor."

As a co-founder, team member, and mentor of Inspire Her Afrika, I am honoured and humbled to be part of this empowering and transformative experience. I applaud the young women who signed up to be mentored. They have shown resilience, determination, and creativity. They have completed challenging tasks that helped them grow personally and professionally. They have learned new skills, developed new connections, and discovered new possibilities. They are the future leaders of Africa, and I am proud to celebrate their success.

I am grateful to our mentors for their generosity, support, and guidance. You have shared your expertise, experience, and network with our mentees and I believe you also enriched yourselves in the process. You have helped them to dream, dare, and do extraordinary things. We owe you a debt of gratitude for your service and belief in our vision.

I am also grateful to our mentees for their enthusiasm, curiosity, and ambition. You have embraced the challenges, opportunities, and feedback that the program offered. You have also enriched our mentors with your fresh perspectives, ideas, and questions.

Together, you have created a lasting bond that goes beyond the program. You have become part of the Inspire Her Afrika family, a community of empowered and emboldened women who are ready to make a positive impact in Africa and the world.

I am filled with hope and excitement for the future of Africa as our mentees step out as agents of positive change. You are ready to make an impact in your communities, your countries, and the world. As you embark on your next endeavours, I want you to know that you have eternal partners in Inspire Her Afrika. We are here to support you, cheer you on, and celebrate your achievements.

MENTOR

Speaks....

Hello, I am Ojinmah Chinwendu Lynda, a serial entrepreneur and social development advocate. I have been an active member of IHA for the past six months.

My interest in mentoring stems from my deep commitment to social and civic responsibility. I believe everyone should have a mentor or trusted advisor to guide them in their career or entrepreneurial journey.

With a background in international relations and over six years of experience as a senior sales consultant and brand strategist, coupled with being a serial entrepreneur involved in fragrance and logistics, my diverse experiences have fueled my passion for mentorship.

Success in a mentoring relationship to me is measured by the tangible growth and development of my mentee. Witnessing them overcome challenges and achieve their goals defines success in this dynamic and reciprocal connection.

My mentee is Okafor Chinyere, and our connection over the last six months has been truly fulfilling. The impact has been reciprocal, as our relationship has not only spurred growth in Chinyere but has prompted me to reflect on my own work and personal development. A standout moment was when we collaborated to define Chinyere's goals and aspirations. After creating a goal tree, she achieved her first milestone, a decision we reached together. I couldn't have been prouder.

Participating in the program has been instrumental in my professional growth by providing a platform to share experiences and learn from others. My advice to aspiring mentors is to approach the role with openness and a genuine desire to contribute to someone else's journey. The learning goes both ways, and being receptive to that reciprocity is key.

To my fellow women, I would encourage you to embrace the opportunity to join the program. The mentorship journey has the power to transform not only your mentee's life but also your own. To the program organizers, mentors, and fellow mentees, thank you for fostering an environment that nurtures growth, collaboration, and positive change. Let's continue to inspire and uplift each other on this remarkable journey.

"The most beneficial aspects of this mentorship program, in my experience, are the open communication channels and the structured framework for goal-setting. These elements foster a conducive environment for meaningful and impactful mentorship."

MENTEE

Speaks....

My Journey as a Mentee at Inspire her Afrika

Ogechi Nwachukwu

Nigeria

I started off this year like everyone else, except that I had disorganized goals and priorities which appeared a herculean task arranging them. Then midway, I knew that I needed me some mentoring to be able to navigate this stage, and that was how I became a mentee at Inspire Her Afrika (IHA).

It's been an amazing six months journey, and looking back, I can see how instrumental IHA has been towards my transformation into a total woman who has become quite intentional about her growth and development.

At a very personal level, it has been an expository personal journey, this is because there have been areas of self-development the thought-out programs have taken me through. Consequently, this means taking me through the corridors of my life I have been afraid to stroll through.

I have been able to discern and identify my drive, intrinsic needs, and abilities alike. In addition, I have been well equipped with wide range of resources and workshops that are rather thought-provoking. From networking events to leadership training and several other aspects that encompass my human behavior. I have also been opportune to learn from experts, connect with people of like minds, and gain insights instrumental to my advancement.

I am quite glad I was able to navigate the numerous tasks that didn't come easy (trust me, I have had to carry out some tasks with fear and trembling, lol!) which took me further from where I used to be complacently positioned. One of such complacency is my phobia for writing project proposals, yet I didn't just meet it here as a task, but as a final project lol!

Overall, my experience at IHA has been incredibly fulfilling. I have grown as a person, gained new skills and made meaningful connections. These cumulated experiences have duly influenced my resilience that right now, all I want to do is boldly step into my THOUGHTS and give them LIFE, regardless.

I am an African woman, and I have been inspired.

Do you know the catch? The catch is, how my growth as a total woman is the ONLY PLAN.

MENTEE SPEAKS

Stories that inspire...

"Participating in this mentorship program has enabled me to be more self-confident. I was able to identify my personal and professional goals, and how best to achieve them. I now have a clear roadmap for my career and future. I know what I want, how to achieve it, and I have set timelines for myself."

I have enjoyed my time with IHA mentorship program. It has allowed me to social and network with people who I wouldn't have even thought about talking to before. It has allowed me to discover my personal brand, I had no idea what that was nor its significance. I have a clear vision of what I want to achieve, and to best go about it.

To top all these, the mastery sessions keep getting more and more exciting and worth attending. I am glad I was part of this program, and I am grateful for having the opportunity to learn from such amazing individuals.

Lastly, the management team is so friendly!

MEMORY NAMASIKU

Namibia

"I have become more confident in my abilities, my self esteem has improved and I have managed to learn new skills. I am also more expressive and open, I know what I want, and I am more excited about my present and future."

MENTEE SPEAKS...

Stories that inspire...

"I have learned the importance of self-development and networking for my business growth. I also acquired skills for proper record-keeping and content creation to boost my business sales."

I joined the IHA mentorship program with a mixture of excitement and uncertainty, unsure of what to expect because this was my first mentorship program.

My mentor, Favour, a seasoned professional in her field, encouraged me from our first meeting, and it was clear that this was going to be a transformative journey. One of the most valuable aspects of my mentorship journey is the guidance and insights I received

Favour continually shared her experiences, and offered practical advice. Her feedbacks on all my tasks always steer me to self-improvement and critical thinking. The mentorship has had a profound impact on my self-confidence. Favour's unwavering belief in my abilities kept boosting my self-esteem. She challenged me to set ambitious goals that are also time bound and made me realize that I am capable of achieving them.

ADEDOYIN OSHINGBESAN

Nigeria

"The IHA mentorship program was indeed a transformative experience because I did not only gain valuable knowledge and skills but also a mentor who will become a friend. So far so well the program has exceeded my expectations in every way."

PROJECT SHOWCASE

Our Mentees are inspiring...

So we asked our mentees to be daring and implement a project that encapsulates their passion and all they have learned during their mentorship journey.... and of course, they went overboard, because that is what we do at Inspire Her Afrika....

Dear Woman

Mentored by Chidinma Oli

As a registered nurse and a reproductive health advocate, I noticed that most pregnant women have little or no knowledge about physical and mental health changes associated with pregnancy and the postpartum period.

The Dear Woman project was designed to tackle this challenge by educating and enlightening women about these changes and how to effectively manage them to improve their health outcomes

JENNIFER MEIZA

ADEDOYIN OSHINGBESAN

Girl Child Care

Empowering Girls Through Menstrual Health Education

Mentored by Favour Okoli

The Girl Child Care project empowers young girls through comprehensive menstrual health education, promoting hygiene practices, fostering confidence, and driving positive change in their lives.

This project aimed to address societal stigma associated with menstruation and create a supportive environment for girls.
